1. Entities Diagrams

2. Entity Relationship Diagram (ER)

3. Assumptions

- A staff member can be a part of one department, but a department can have multiple staff members be appointed to it.
- Some subjects may be exclusive to one course, and some subjects can be shared between multiple courses.
- A teaching session can only teach one subject at a time; however, a subject can be taught in multiple different teaching sessions.
- Students can be enrolled in multiple different teaching sessions, but they can only be in one session at any given time.
- Multiple students can be present in the same teaching session.
- A teacher session can appear on multiple different timetables.
- A student can only have one timetable at any given time.
- We've assumed that Staff HR/Payroll details are kept in a different database, such as Workday. The same assumption has been made for the finance database, used by the Accounts department.
- Teaching sessions are timetable for an hour.
- Teaching sessions run from 0800 till 1800. This means timetabled start times must start from 0800 and end in 1700, with timetabled end times shifting by an hour to 0900 and 1800 to accommodate the 1-hour session length. Sessions can be longer if needed, but must stay in between these times (e.g., a 2-hour session must start at 1600 to finish on time).
- An emergency contact can be shared by multiple members of staff, and multiple students, or vice versa. This is to accommodate two siblings attending the school, in which case their emergency contact may be their mother or father, of which the details would stay the same. Another scenario this accommodates is one in which a staff member has a son/daughter attending the school as a student, in which case they may have the same emergency contact.
- An address can be shared by emergency contacts, students, and staff members. This is to accommodate a parent and offspring attending the school as a student, and the parent working in the school. An emergency contact can have the same address as the other two to accommodate the other parent being the emergency contact.
- Not everyone has a middle name.
- Postcode can be 6-8 characters, this is to accommodate some postcodes being RE1 ADT and SO14 WTX.
